

Meeting Yourself on the Way to Work

Meeting Yourself on The Way to Work may be unlike most other courses that you have ever experienced. This course is about you - examining what aspects of yourself have been expanded through your work; what aspects feel closed or blocked; how you might leverage the best in you and your job; and what you believe is possible to experience through the world of work.

How satisfied are you with your current job? Are you excited, growing and becoming more authentic? Are you making a contribution to something more than the bottom-line? Are you disinterested, feel that something is missing? Are you just going through the motions while you count the days to the weekend? Are you wondering if there is a job where you could just “really be you?” Are you somewhere in between?

In this course, you will be introduced to four powerful archetypal figures: The Warrior, The Healer, The Visionary and The Teacher. These four potent energies each possess inspirational heights to which we can aspire as well as shadow sides (the dark or negative sides of our nature) that impede our own progress and relationships with ourselves and with others. You will learn how understanding and applying various aspects of these archetypes can increase your job satisfaction, your productivity and your effectiveness.

This course presents a model for actively participating in your life and work. It is a very different orientation from which to draw strength. It re-frames where power can be found in ways that are based on abundance rather than fear, expansion rather than control, and growing rather than shrinking.
